serve:
to help others

They serve good food at that restaurant.

guests:

people who are visiting in another house, restaurant, or hotel

We had out-of-town guests during the holidays. We enjoyed their visit with us.

stranger:
someone you don't know

I did not talk to
the stranger
since I do not know him.

manner:

the way something is done

The children entered the library in a very noisy manner. The way they entered the room disturbed the people inside.

unusual:

something that is different,
not like every day

My friend, Townley
Sheep, has an unusual
name. There aren't many people with a
name like that.

overjoyed:
really excited about
something

I was overjoyed when my baby sister was born. It made me so
happy.
